

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS.

Supt. J. W. Logsdon spent a short time here last week.

Conductor John Longstaff was in charge of the Guthrie fair train last week.

Supervisor Edmonson was down the Madisonville branch last Saturday receiving ties.

Conductors Rosser, Bramwell and Patterson had charge of the circus trains while on this division.

A small wreck occurred at Madisonville last Friday night, which resulted in but little damage to either track or cars.

To accommodate the large crowd who want to attend the Elks street fair at Hopkinsville this week, a special train is being run.

At this writing, Conductor Thomas Browning is resting well and high hopes are entertained that amputation will be necessary.

A special train was run from Providence to Madisonville last Saturday night to accommodate those wishing to attend the circus.

Lee Cozart is now the flagman on the Hopkinsville and Nashville accommodation and with the experience he has had in the train service will make a good man for the place.

For one night only was the telegraph office at Kelleys opened last week, and that was to aid, if necessary in the safe transportation of trains.

Quite a number of the prominent railroads of the East, says Troublemaker Mitchell, stand strongly censured as the chief conspirators that caused the strike there among the coal miners.

One colored woman who lately lost her husband through his becoming intoxicated and taking up his resting place on the track, where the cars forever put him to sleep claimed fifty dollars damages of the railroad, when she should have presented her claim to the saloon keeper who sold the poor fellow his last drink, which was the cause of his death.

Last Saturday night while Conductor Joe Brown was doing some switching at Greenbrier, a man by the name of Sam Smiley was found under the cars dead and badly mangled. It is thought that while in an intoxicated condition, he crawled under the cars and fell asleep and while enjoying a nap was run over by cars with the above result.

We understand the managers of the Forepaugh and Sells Bros. shows highly appreciated the efforts put forth by railroad officials from Superintendent Logsdon down to see that not only were the trains moved promptly but safely, which was the case and always will be under such an efficient force as Trainmaster Devney, Chief Train Dispatcher Sheridan and the Trainmaster from St. Louis division, Mr. Sargent, who were in charge. There was no delay and no accident.

Red Hill News.

Jimnie Page is very sick with fever this week.

Miss Tula Crick had the misfortune to fall from a horse and break her arm a few days since.

Dame Rumor says that we are to have a half dozen weddings near Red Hill this fall. What is a plainer proof of prosperity than this?

Reuben Miles, of near Madisonville, visited in this vicinity last week.

Z. F. Price and M. T. Hamby went to Hopkinsville Saturday.

Thos. Grace left a few days ago for parts unknown and there is a certain young lady near here with red and swollen eyes.

We would like for some one to tell us why you see so many McKinley buttons and badges and all of unusual size, while the Bryan buttons are few and far between and all look small and dim. Probably it is expansion that makes them so.

J. W. Pyle has a new boarder in the form of a fine girl baby.

Henry Davis and Leo Price went to the show at Madisonville Saturday.

C. M. Parker and family will move to Earlington in a few days to make their home.

Ozie Denton is suffering with a sore throat this week.

J. B. Martin made a business trip to Hopkinsville yesterday.

Edgar Long and family, of Casky, visited J. H. Denton recently.

George Reed is ill at this writing. Tim Carroll attended the circus at Madisonville Saturday.

The school at this place is having very light attendance on account of sickness.

The Teachers' Association will be held at Orange Grove.

The dark and unwelcome visage of death has again been in our midst and claimed as a victim one of the purest and best little girls of our community. On last Sunday night as the Holy Sabbath was merging into a busy work day the pure, sweet and loving soul of little Etha Bennett took its flight from this cold cruel earth and was carried across the dark waters on the snowy wings of an angel and deposited at the feet of the Blessed Savior, where all the pure and loving of this earth shall one day worship.

Little Etha was just twelve years old and a favorite of all who knew her; at school she was a sweet-tempered and dutiful pupil, a loving schoolmate and a friend to all. She died of typhoid fever and was only sick twelve days in which time she bore her sufferings with patience, always looking on the sunny side as was her nature in all things. Her remains were laid to rest in Old Petersburg cemetery Monday evening in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives.

To the mourning family and friends we say, sorrow not as those who have no hope, for we know that our dear little friend is not dead, but has only been carried up higher to become one of the little lambs, which our Savior loves so well, and if we are only faithful yet, a little while at the longest, we will meet and rejoice with her, in the paradise of God.

May the sacred little mound be kept green, watered by heaven's refreshing dews, while the birds build their nests in the trees overhead and sing as sweetly to the memory as they did to thee in the happy days gone by.

Another little lamb has gone To dwell with him who gave, Another little girl

Is sheltered in the grave.

God needed one more child,

Amidst his shining band,

And so he bent his loving smile,

And clasped the darlings hand.

U. No Hoo.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by dealers in all civilized countries.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

Jack Dockery has located at Barnsley, where he will be close to the mine, where he works.

Several of the coke ovens are undergoing repairs. George Farnsworth has charge of the work.

Although business was good, last week hundreds of the miners found time to attend the circus last Saturday.

The coal operator in charge of mines, where miners strike now exists, refuse to recognize the Miners' Union, and will treat only with the men individually.

Thos. Hodge, who for some time has had charge of the slack washer at the coke ovens has quit the job and returned to his first love, the carpenter's trade.

Mr. John Burden is now accused of going into the laundry business, which foreman Toombs says is confined exclusively to the slack washer at the coke works.

Mining Engineer Norwood, of the St. Bernard Company is so crowded with mine work and surveying on the outside for new buildings, that he gets but little time for rest or to talk politics.

Thousands of miners in the east now idle through Mitchell's orders, are getting restless and will, it is believed soon return to work, and now is the time for them to declare their independence.

John Steersman is among those, who consider themselves blessed as he is the father of a bouncing boy—weight ten pounds. It is safe to say John will now want an extra turn in the mines.

Foreman W. A. Toombs, of the St. Bernard Company, who on account of sickness of himself and daughters has been off duty for two months or more, again resumed charge of the builders last week.

After a few days hard work with the new motor at the Hecla mine, Manager Robinson succeeded as he always does in finding the cause of the trouble which was a defective connection in this case.

We don't believe it is right if true as reports say that there is politics behind the big miners strike. If so they are evidently on the right road to again establish the soup house as it existed under Cleveland's last administration.

Bud Davis, of Madisonville, says there were quite a number of visiting agitators there on circus day. Of course that was a good day for them to find hearers. The miners of this country have long ago given them a deaf ear, and they naturally turn their attention to the farmers who good naturedly listen to their tale of woe, and they were numerous that day.

Scarcely had the order to strike been issued a week before bloodshed occurred. As a matter of course, efforts will be made by the strikers to shift the responsibility from their shoulders to that of the operators. When men do wrong and they see public sentiment, as it will in this case, turn against them, they are eager to throw the blame on the innocent, or in other words their acts make cowards of them, and why should it not. The very fact that Mitchell and his gang have placed something like three hundred thousand and miners, women and children on the paupers list, looks to us like a crime. If a corporation would refuse to promptly pay off the men, in their employ, and families were caused to suffer, at once an indignation meeting would be called by the public, and resolutions passed condemning said corporations. But here comes a labor leader, who should use his greatest efforts to provide work for the idle, and who does by his orders, rob over one hundred thousand miners, and two hundred thousand women and children of the necessities of life, the result being the same. Justice demands that, he likewise be censured.

The city aldermen of Louisville were lately petitioned by the Printers' Union of that city to give preference to work done by union labor, and below we give the answer, which the readers will find very pointed indeed:

Alderman Munn, from the committee on printing, presented a report on the resolution, in which the following language is used:

"Your committee desires to state emphatically that it is in no way hostile to or prejudiced against labor unions or the Allied Printing Trades' Council, and it will offer no objection to the city buyer giving the preference to the union label on all city printing at the same price, but it does not believe that any individual, firm, corporation, organization, party or denomination has the right to demand or expect city work at a higher price than others are willing to do it for."

The board refused to concur in the report. President Ballard and Mr. Munn only voting in the affirmative. The question then arose as to the preliminary status of the resolution in the two boards, and as there was an evident tangle, the resolution was referred back to the lower board to do with it as it saw fit.

Now the question arises, does the labor union object to free competition; if so, why? If it objects to free competition, does it not confess itself a trust? Is it consistent or right in labor unions to seek to pass laws to compel the city and the citizens to pay more for the city printing than other responsible bidders will do the work for? Are not the labor unions against trusts because they are raising prices and stifling competition? In this printing matter are the union printers trying to raise prices and choke off competition?

Do not labor unions arbitrarily limit the number of apprentices in shops they control? Is this not artificially regulating and restricting production and prices. Is this not doing exactly what they condemn the trusts for? Are not labor unions tyrannical trusts?

The mass of the laboring people, like the mass of American citizens generally, are honest and mean to do right, but I would ask the labor union men, are not your unions trusts? Are you not regulating or trying to regulate, production, prices and competition exactly as you charge the trusts are doing? Come, let us all try to be fair; let us practice "live and let live;" don't howl against trusts and at the same time practice the methods which trusts are said to use.

The union labor people yesterday held great celebrations in all parts of the country. Everybody rejoices at the increasing dignity and prosperity of labor. Labor is honorable everywhere in the United States.

COUNTRIES WHERE OUR COAL FINDS MARKET.

At present the countries to which American coal could be carried with profit are those lying about the Mediterranean Sea, Spain, France, Italy, Egypt and the Black Sea ports of Russia and Turkey. The South African market is not a profitable one. Ultimately the South American market may be taken away from England, but that is a matter resting wholly with future developments. The Mediterranean ports are just the objective points of the American coal exporters.

This country never can have a large export trade in coal until it has a large fleet of coal carrying boats, and it is not believed by the coal operators that it will ever have such a fleet unless it subsidizes it. At this time the advantage enjoyed by England over the United States in the cost of construction and operation of its merchant marine is at least twenty per cent. Then, too, a vessel costing $480,000 to build and equip in this country can be got in Norway for $300,000. It is not believed, however, that there is any chance of a collapse of the coal export business with a cessation of the present business activity in Europe, although there may and probably will be some reactions.

Every ten years or so there is a high wave of business prosperity, followed by a reaction, but the reactions in prospect will probably be much less acute than in the past, and the coal men believe that in any event if they get their business once established along the lines now laid down, that it will be permanent, because coal could be carried into the harbors of South Europe at prices which England could not attempt of approach. Inquiries have also reached this country from Russia, Scandinavia, Austria and Germany, looking toward a dependence on America for coal, in addition to the chances of business with the countries already mentioned. Not a single one of the countries of Europe, outside of England, produces a sufficient quantity of coal for its own use and England has been pouring coal, probably at the rate of 50,000,000 tons annually, into the continent. This is the business for which America is fighting, with an excellent prospect of coming out on top of the heap.

In this connection it may be said that there is no apparent truth about the reports that the Baltimore and

It is understood that the appointment of a City Judge of Madisonville has not yet been made positively. Mr. Beckham promised the place to R. B. Bradley, but has not as yet issued his commission. C. C. Givens was the other aspirant and was appointed by the Madisonville City Council unanimously. But the acting Governor claims the authority to appoint, and there seems to be some conflicting statutes upon this point.

Vice-President Thore, of the Pennsylvania, makes this statement: "We have received a statement from our mines showing what pay miners in our employ received in the month of August. The average amount received by each mine for that time was $52, or in other words, each man performed an average of twenty full days of work at the rate of $2.50 a day. This schedule taken from the books of the Company, does not altogether agree with the starvation of which we hear so much recently. Mr. Thorne also said that only one of collieries was working, though he was still of the opinion that the strike would not last long.—Black Diamond.

Walter H. Roland, the only son of Dan W. and Carrie Roland died on the evening of the 18th near Nebo of typhoid fever. Although less than eighteen years of age, few boys of his age were more widely or favorably known than the deceased. His dutiful obedience to his parents, his unswerving honesty, and his kindness to all won for him a multitude of friends. His untimely death made desolate a happy home and left an aching void in a wide circle of friends and relatives, to whom THE BEE extends its warmest sympathy.
